Team Nova Staff Meeting

Project Nova Team Friends,

I'm not a wordy person nor do I know how to express my feelings of thankfulness without sounding like a dumb car guy. So to all those who put their Hearts / time / money into getting my 64 Nova up and running while I spent my Heart / time / money getting Radiation treatment for Prostate Cancer this effort shows what special friends you are. The Nova Project was to Me like 'Make-A-Wish' Which I dreamed would never happen but because of special people like you it did.

I want to say THANK YOU from the bottom of my heart for a wonderful job as my Nova is absolutely beautiful!! You can tell that you gave it your all and had fun at the same time.

It gave me something positive to think about while going through my treatments.

With your hard work and my commitment to getting well we all succeeded in our tasks.

I'm cancer free and have a 25 year Project Nova that will be on the road real soon!!

I hope and pray some day I will be able to repay your kindness.

Thank you One And All

Ron & Annette

Mike's Musings

Yesterday

Jan. 25, 2016 Ron and Annette's 1964 Nova made it back into their garage. Thanks to all their friends' hard work and financial help a project that started 25 years ago is now ready to be enjoyed. Six months of work by fellow Club members is now completed and the results are amazing. Many thanks especially to Bob Bishop for the use of his garage and his "special collection" of parts, and his knowledge has made it possible. Also to Sam Rindskopf special thanks for trailering it to various locations to get it to the right people to take care of the exhaust, alignment, and engine start-up, and then to the get the interior done. To all those guys who showed up every Wednesday for six months to put the Nova back together, I can't thank you enough. You are a special group of men to give up your time and money to help a fellow Club member. Everyone did their part, you should be very proud of what you've accomplished.

Grand Nationals Roadster Show

Just a custom idea that didn't fly. A fleet line model. I'm at the Grand National Roadster Show in Pomona with about 20,000 car buddies. It's shoulder to shoulder. But the cars are coool!

CRUISING THE COUNTY

After the New Years' Day Cruise several people mentioned how nice it was to go somewhere they hadn't been before. If that is something you're interested in doing, there is no reason to wait for a special occasion. Let's just do it. I've lived in San Diego County all my life and have had several jobs that have allowed me to go to some very unusual places. Mostly in the North County, if that works for you, I would be happy to share some very cool places. Let me know and we'll work something out.

February Update:

Linda is doing good. She is over all the virus stuff, which is good. She is still on oxygen, but hopes to get off it before Big 3. We weren't happy to hear that her heart has signs of rejection, but it is apparently in early stages and treatable with mega doses of Prednisone. We won't know if it is working until we get results of next biopsy on February 23.

Pondering

As I was lying around, pondering the problems of the world, I realized that at my age I don't really give a rat's ass anymore. Now that I'm older here's what I've discovered:

I started out with nothing, and I still have most of it.
My wild oats are mostly enjoyed with prunes and all-bran.
I finally got my head together, and now my body is falling apart.
Funny, I don't remember being absent-minded.
If all is not lost, then where the heck is it?
It was a whole lot easier to get older, than to get wiser.
Some days, you're the top dog; some days you're the hydrant.
I wish the buck really did stop here; I sure could use a few of them.
Kids in the back seat cause accidents.
Accidents in the back seat cause kids.
It's hard to make a comeback when you haven't been anywhere.
The world only beats a path to your door when you're in the bathroom.
If God wanted me to touch my toes, he'd have put them on my knees.
When I'm finally holding all the right cards, everyone wants to play chess.
It's not hard to meet expenses . . . they're everywhere.
The only difference between a rut and a grave is the depth.
These days, I spend a lot of time thinking about the hereafter . . .
I go somewhere to get something, and then wonder what I'm "here after".
Funny, I don't remember being absent-minded.
If walking is good for your health, the postman would be immortal.
A whale swims all day, mainly eat fish, drinks water, but is still fat.
A rabbit runs and hops and only lives 15 years, while
A tortoise doesn't run and does mostly nothing, yet it lives for 150 years.
And you tell me to exercise?? I don't think so.

.... Just grant me the senility to forget the people I never liked, the good fortune to remember the ones I do, and the eyesight to tell the difference.

Goldie and the Horseless Carriages

I will admit it to anyone who will listen. I am not a modest automobile. I love being a Tri-5 Chevy. We're iconic. We're cool. We're great looking. And, in my opinion, we Nomads are the best-of-the-best. Check out our long, graceful lines. Our bling. Chrome.

Silvery, shiny chrome. And, polished metal. On our exteriors. Under our hoods. We glimmer in the sunshine. We look sassy.

A couple of weeks ago I was on my way down to Spirit in El Cajon to have some under-the-hood work done (solid metal 'hoses' between my radiator and block to replace the flexible metal pair I've worn for the past six years or so) before I travel to Yuma in a few weeks for MATO 2016. Almost as an after thought, Evans High Performance Waterless Engine Coolant to replace my antifreeze was suggested. This stuff is reportedly the elixir of life for my aluminum radiator. Great I thought. I would be more timeless than ever before.

I was at Restoration Supply Company in Escondido to pick up the Evans coolant when I saw timeless automobiles close-up and personally. Classic cars much older than I. Horseless Carriages. Elegant. Classy. With graceful, hand crafted bodies. Their bling? Incredibly warm gold-toned brass. They are beautiful. And, I am in awe of that beauty.

The Kitchen Scoop on the Flavor of Curry

by Ann Goldberg

Sometimes, I get the urge to just spice things up a little bit, flavor them a little differently than I usually do when preparing something to eat. Reaching for the curry powder on the pantry shelf is an easy way to fulfill that urge.

Curry powder is the combination of all sorts of wonderful spices. Sometimes it includes coriander, turmeric, cumin, fenugreek and chili peppers. Food Network's Alton Brown has a recipe comprised of cumin, cardamom, coriander seeds, tumeric, dry mustard and cayenne in quantities that yield one-half cup of finished product. That's a lot of curry powder. And, a lot of different spices needed to mix it up a batch. I'm just going to continue to satisfy myself purchasing prepaid curry powder from the grocery.

I did not experience the flavor of curry until I was a young adult and enjoyed the complex warm, mellow flavor on veggies and chicken concoctions served over rice. However, curry isn't reserved for things that go over rice. It's versatile. Add it to egg salad for a sandwich that's delicious, especially when made on a good multi-grain bread. You can also add it to a sauce to go over grilled or baked chicken or salmon.

Here are two different versions of peach-curry sauce you may want to try. The first is good year-round, it's made with canned peaches. For the other, you have to wait for fresh peaches to be available...but I think you'll find it's worth the wait.

Canned Peach - Curry Sauce

- 1 Tablespoon oil
- 1 medium onion, peeled and chopped small
- 1-1/2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1 can sliced peaches in extra light syrup (do not drain)
- 1 Tablespoon soy sauce

Cook onion in oil over medium heat until onion is translucent.

Add remaining ingredients. Heat mixture to boiling and boil for one minute stirring constantly.

Fresh Peach - Curry Sauce

- 2 fresh peaches, peeled and diced
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- salt and pepper

Put fruit, honey and curry powder in a small sauce pan over medium heat. Bring to a simmer and cook 10 minutes stirring frequently until peaches have broken up and sauce is thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper.
