New Years Day Cruise

New Years Day always brings out many car clubs on an annual cruise somewhere around San Diego County. This year was no different as the Tri 5 cruise was organized by Sam. I don't normally go on it but this year Nancy and I decided to go. It was a beautiful day (which in S.D it normally is) we met at the old Sizzler restaurant in Ramona at 10:00 am. There were 6 couples there: Nancy and I, Wayne and Linda, Sam and Donna, Don, Ron and Annette, and Tom and Nancy. with Nancy's sister Sandy (being in town for the holiday and warm weather) she rode with, of course Tom and Nancy. Ron and Annette drove the Prius as the Nova still needs a little more fine tuning to be back on the road. And Don always says if you leave the classics in the garage nothing can go wrong with them! He drove his brand new Lexus which only had a few miles on it. We left at 10:15 am with Sam in the lead and the other 3 classics in tow. The daily driver followed at the end of the pack. We left Ramona heading east towards Julian. Heading out into the back country. The roads were not overly crowded so we cruised along at a nice speed. I always enjoy the back country cruises more than the city one's. It's always less stop and go and I find the wide open spaces relaxing. As we passed Dudley's Bakery there was not much action going on because it was closed. Arriving in Julian about 10:45 or so, the crowds were pretty light. We passed thru on our way to the next destination heading south on Highway 79. We took the turn off on to Sunrise Highway toward Laguna, stopping at the rest stop over looking the desert. After stretching and looking at the view awhile it was back in the cars toward Laguna Lodge and a potty break and a picture break for the tourist who were there. After a short break it was back in the cars and down the road to Pine Valley where we stopped and ate at Major diner, a popular stop in Pine Valley. The food was good, and the company is always good. After the meal, we said our good byes and headed home. All the cars ran good with no problems. Even Don's Lexus made it OK. I would like to thank Sam for organizing the cruise. He didn't get lost and he drove at a nice speed so everyone enjoyed the drive.

Mecum Auction Kissimmee, FL

by Ann Goldberg

Ten days, three thousand cars across the auction block. Labeled by Mecum Auctions as 'the world's largest collector car auction.' All in Kissimmee, just outside Orlando, January 05 through the 14th. A lot of hype. A lot of great cars. A lot of fun.

This Reserve auction provided an interesting variety of immaculate automobiles, some beautiful Tri-5's and some interesting collections including a conga line of retractable roof Fords and five IROC racers. Good solid cars with paint jobs and engines appearing perfect. The Dodge Hellcat Experience was the thrill ride of the event. A short high speed run with hard braking, fish tailing and drifting around corners like I hadn't experienced since the '80's and my SCCA driving days. One of those rides everybody leaves with a big Christmas morning smile.

Our beloved Tri-5 Chevy's were not a big part of the event. On the two days we attended, Thursday and Friday, days seven and eight of the sale, only thirteen made it to the auction block and they did not bring the largest bids. Bidders. A 1955 Nomad didn't sell — the $81,000 bid not meeting the seller's Reserve. Earlier that day a 1957 Pontiac Safari Wagon Resto Mod sold for $101,000. Bidders here were interested in young power machines. Go fast cars.

Site of the auction, Osceola Heritage Park is a compact venue easy to navigate: close in parking fields; transportation to the gate readily available; tents and buildings of cars, the midway stage, and vendor exhibits close together. You easily got in your 10,000 steps without enduring an exhausting hike to cover the whole event. Lots of good car fun at a budget price. Daily general admission just $20 on line. For $100 you could purchase a buyers's badge and accompanying 'guest' credential good for the duration of the auction on line. Seated in the arena I'd originally thought there were more buyers than spectators in the hall, then realized many attendees had simply upgraded to 'buyer' status for the better seating, closer access to the cars and related perks.

Not a bad idea. Perhaps we'll give that a try next year.

Stanleys Back & Cruisin'

I'm back after a long recovery. It was difficult living with a rambunctious five year old as I'm an old chicken.

My first outing was the Tri5 New Years Day cruise. It was a beautiful warm day. Sam and Donna were there with their gorgeous Nomad. Wayne and Linda with my favorite 55 chick magnet and Tom and Nancy Geiman, along with sister Sandy in a 57 turquoise hard top. Rod and Nancy brought me in the red hot rod 57 and Ron and Annette drove their Prius. Also there was Don Perkins in a brand new RX350 Lexus. Wait! A new car when he has so many classics? Let's see he has a 55 Nomad Pro street. Oh, it hasn't been driven in six years it must need something done. A stock 55 Nomad and a 55 Chevy convertible. Oh, they share one battery. A 55 hard top driver. Oh- it needs a new carburetor. Two 55 Pontiacs a convertible and a station wagon; both under construction a 29 Ford model A.- it needs a lot. A Ford Bronco that just got a new motor and transmission. But Don says it doesn't shift right. Whew! A 58 Buick station wagon and a 40 Ford Coe, also under construction. Not to mention a couple Harleys. Guess he had to buy a new car for the cruise. He had cancer which slowed him down a bit. Congratulations on being Cancer free for 3 1/2 years. Now get busy on all those cars.

I must admit, the Lexus is a soft comfy ride on my old chicken bones.

I enjoyed the cruise and people seemed glad to see me.

Stanley

P.S. Love you Don

Thank you

Big thank you to Sam and Donna for organizing the New Years Day Cruise. A beautiful day filled with classics and friend. T5R

LEMON PECAN CRANBERRY BISCOTTI

3 cups flour
 1 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. baking powder
 ¼ tsp. baking soda
 1 ¼ stick unsalted butter at room temp.
 1 1/3 cup sugar
 1 ½ Tbsp. finely grated lemon peel
 2 large eggs
 3 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice
 1 cup chopped pecans
 1 cup dried cranberries
 1 large egg – beaten – for glaze
 Raw sugar

Sift flour, salt, baking powder and soda in a medium bowl. Beat butter, sugar, lemon peel in an electric mixer. Add 2 eggs, one at a time beating just to blend. Add lemon juice and mix till blended. Add flour mixture alternately with pecans and cranberries.

Lightly flour work surface and divide into 3 equal portions. With lightly floured hands, form each portion into an 8 inch log. Place on a piece of plastic wrap and press slightly flattening into a 2 ½ x 10 inch log. Wrap in plastic wrap and chill at least 3 hours to 3 days. Position rack in upper ½ of oven preheated to 325 degrees F. Line a heavy, large rimmed baking sheet with parchment paper. Unwrap logs. Brush logs with egg glaze and sprinkle with raw sugar. Lift logs from plastic wrap and transfer to lined baking sheet. Bake until golden brown – about 45 to 50 minutes. Transfer to a cooling rack and cool completely. Reduce heat to 300. Line a baking sheet with parchment. Cut logs on the diagonal and arrange biscotti on cookie sheet. Bake another 20 minutes.
