The Last Pepper Tree Frosty Faux Burger Run

Submitted by Wayne Hartwig

Pretty much everyone who has been in the San Diego area for any length of time has been to or at least heard of the Burger Run at the Pepper Tree Frosty in Vista. The story goes that it all started in 1988 with four car guys making a trip to the Pepper Tree Frosty to get a burger. They decided to make it a regular thing with free tee-shirts, dash plaques and unique trophies, and by the second year there were about 100 participants. It grew into a major event attracting over 500 vehicles and thousands of spectators to the downtown area. Over the decades, the Burger Run became recognized as one of the first major car shows of the season and as the "Biggest Little Car Show in San Diego County."

Then came the pandemic in 2020, bringing the Burger Run to a halt along with everything else in our lives. There were efforts to revive the Burger Run last year and it was a nice event despite there being a smaller turnout. Then last May, we received news that the property where the Pepper Tree Frosty and Danny's Donuts are located is going to be redeveloped into a new mixed-use building with apartments and retail, including a smaller, modernized Frosty run by the same Villasenor family, preserving their legacy while updating the site.

With this news, it appears the last and final Pepper Tree Frosty Faux Burger Run would be on January 10, 2026. We decided we would go to be a part of the legendary last Burger Run. When we arrived around 8 am, it was a very chilly 44 degrees outside. We visited Danny's Donuts for hot chocolate & donuts to help ward off the chill. The chilly temps didn't stop the crowd from showing up. It was difficult to know just how many cars were in attendance as they were coming and going all morning and because the parking lot was full, people were parking on the street and in other parking lots in the area. My best guess is there was somewhere between 125 and 150 cars.

Is this really the end of the Burger Run? It seems there is little information available as to a timeline when the Pepper Tree and Danny's Donuts will close their doors for the last time. Like so many things in our lives, it appears that the annual Burger Run will soon just be a memory of our past.

Tri-Five Messages, News, Info, & Correspondence

Members Joe and Donna Keller have settled into their new home in Oklahoma.
Doing great, happy to be nearer to family.

Backyard when they moved in November 2025

Backyard this month, adjusting to the colder weather.

Looking for dual quad carbs! My dual quad carbs were lost by UPS and I'm looking for replacements. They are Carter WCFBs for a 245hp setup on a 57, with the front carb a 2626-S & the rear carb a 2627-S. I'm looking for anything from good rebuildable cores to fully restored. Any leads would be greatly appreciated.

It took me awhile but I finally figured out how to add Waynes video of our photo shoot to the T5R Facebook page. I needed to get rid of the background noise so I added Good Vibrations by the Beach Boys. Looked pretty good! I never figured we would have 17K views in 2 weeks. Wow, who knew.

Local Car Scene in Winchester

Submitted by Wayne Hartwig

We all know January is still a winter month and when the weather is always questionable. There are rarely any car shows happening around San Diego in January, however there was a car show on Saturday, January 17. It was sponsored by the Local Car Scene presenting a car show in Winchester at the Wild West Social Saloon from 11:00 am to 3:00 pm. That's not exactly in the San Diego area, but we hadn't been to a real car show other than the Pepper Tree Frosty Faux Burger Run since early December. We had no other plans and the weather looked like it would be a nice warm day, so we decided to go.

We cleaned up the car, gassed it up and headed north, arriving in Winchester a few minutes before 11 am. Quite a few of our Drifter friends also showed up for this one and they saved us a nice space right next to a couple of popups they brought for shade. We were happy for that because it turned out to be an 80 degree day. We setup our chairs and we were ready to play. Turnout for this show was about 100 entries with a wide variety of cars.

Car Shows at the Wild West Social Saloon are always family oriented with vendors, food and games for kids. There were only half a dozen vendors, mostly selling hot wheels. There were a few kiddies games and axe throwing for those wanting to show off their throwing talents. Two food trucks were onsite, one selling sandwiches and one selling Mexican cuisine. We wondered where the hamburgers and hot dogs were.

Most of the day was spent looking at the entries and catching up with friends after the holidays. The Top 10 awards were scheduled to be presented at 2:30. Three of our Drifter friends were recipients of an award.

Then it was time to head out, but we didn't head for home. Instead, several of us went to Richie's Real American Diner in Murrieta for ice cream treats. We shared a banana split and shared a few stories before calling it a day and heading home.

How about a recipe for Valentine's Day?

CHERRY ENCHILADAS

From the Kitchen of Claudia Gayhart

- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup white sugar
- 5 (10 inch) flour tortillas
- 1 (21 ounce) can cherry pie filling
- 2 tablespoons white sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon crushed sliced almonds

1. Grease a 9x13 inch baking dish. Combine the water, butter and 1/2 cup of sugar in a small saucepan and bring to a boil. Place a few spoonfuls of cherry pie filling just slightly off center of each tortilla. Roll up and place seam side down in the baking dish. Pour the hot liquid over the 'enchiladas' making sure to coat the tops completely. The mixture will be watery. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

2. Preheat the oven to 375 degrees F (190 degrees C). Combine 2 tablespoons sugar, cinnamon and almonds in a small bowl or cup; sprinkle over the top of the enchiladas.

3. Bake for 35 to 40 minutes in the preheated oven, or until outside edges of the tortillas are golden brown. Let cool slightly before serving.
