December 2022 Cruise to Poway In & Out Burger

Submitted by Wayne Hartwig

December 3rd was the last Poway In & Out Burger run for the year 2022 and the last car show event for us this year. As we were arriving in our '55 convertible, we saw the Keller's were already there and they had saved a nice parking space for us.

It was an absolutely beautiful perfect weather day for enjoying a car show and the turnout was really good with about 120 cars showing up. We did the usual sign-in to get the window placard for the car, bought a few raffle tickets in hopes of winning some of the 75 nice raffle goodies on the table, then headed inside the In & Out for our usual #1 double-double combo.

The demand for raffle tickets was big this time and they ran out of the regular blue tickets early on. So, they started selling larger versions of the blue tickets to fill in the gap. It appeared there were nearly equal amounts of the two sizes of tickets, and the Poway Cruisers decided to alternate between big and little tickets for the prizes. It was certainly an interesting way to do the raffle. We did win a couple items, but the best part was winning our second 50/50 raffle for this year. It was a whopping $240!

As always, it was really nice to get out and visit with all of our friends from every car club. The Poway Cruisers Car Club announced they will be back at In & Out in 2023, the first show being January 7th. Here's to the New Year and another season of great car shows!

Do You Have a Car with Keyless Entry?

Submitted by Wayne Hartwig

I recently saw a news story on the theft of cars with keyless entry, cars that use a fob instead of an old-fashioned key. I was surprised to see that 92% of stolen cars were keyless entry models. I wondered how that could be. Unlike standard cars where access without setting off an alarm requires the key, cars with keyless entry can be tricked into thinking the fob is present. How so you ask? These thefts are called “relay attacks” and be easily and quickly done by thieves if your fob isn’t protected. A transmitter and a receiving device are used to pick up the fob’s radio frequency signal. If your fob is not stored safely, it can be very easy for would be thieves to obtain your fob’s radio frequency without having to break into your house. A fob’s signal can be intercepted from as far away as 60 feet. One thief will stand outside your house with a device used to capture the frequency and then transmit it to a second thief with a receiving device standing by your vehicle. This tricks the vehicle into thinking the fob is within the range necessary to enter and start the vehicle. Within a minute or two, your cherished ride can disappear.

So, what can you do to stop would be thieves? Most car models with keyless entry have a manual way to turn off the fob’s signal. This is a sure-fire way to prevent theft because there is no signal to turn off. However, this method can be a real pain to deal with. There is another easier way to solve the problem. It’s called a “blocking pouch”, or a “Faraday bag” or “Faraday box.” It is a pouch or box made with a metallic material that blocks the fob’s radio frequency from being transmitted to a relay device. Simply put your fob inside and close it up! It also helps to keep it far away from windows and doors while in the pouch or box.

Pouches or boxes can be purchased online at E-Bay, Amazon, and many other websites, and they can be purchased for under $20.

Claudia's Corner

I am sending this off to you as my farewell article for Claudia's Corner. Every once in awhile I may feel the inspiration and send off something to you for the newsletter but now that 2023 is around the corner, I think its time for me to let someone else write a 'space filler' article for you now. Its been fun and I still look forward to reading the newsy monthly letter. Claudia

You know, time has a way of moving quickly and catching you unaware of the passing years.

It seems just yesterday that I was young and embarking on my new life. Yet in a way, it seems like eons ago, and I wonder where all the years went.

I know that I lived them all. I have glimpses of how it was back then and of all my hopes and dreams.

However, here it is the last quarter of my life and it catches me by surprise.

How did I get here so fast? Where did the years go and where did my youth go?

I remember well seeing older people through the years and thinking that those older people were years away from me and that I was only on the first quarter and that the fourth quarter was so far off that I could not visualize it or imagine fully what it would be like.

Yet, here it is my friends are retired and getting grey - they move slower and I see an older person now. Some are in better and some worse shape than me but I see the great change.

They're not like the ones that I remember who were young and vibrant but like me, their age is beginning to show and we are now those older folks that we used to see and never thought we'd become.

Each day now, I find that just getting a shower is a real target for the day and taking a nap is not a treat anymore. It's mandatory because if I don't of my own free will, I fall asleep where I sit.

And so, now I enter into this new season of my life unprepared for all the aches and pains and the loss of strength and ability to go and do things that I wish I had done but never did. But at least I know that, though I'm on the last quarter and I'm not sure how long it will last, that when it's over on this earth, it's over. A new adventure will begin!

Yes, I have regrets. There are things I wish I hadn't done; things I should have done but truly there are many things I'm happy to have been done. It's all in a lifetime.

So, if you're not on the last quarter yet, let me remind you that it will be here faster than you think. So, whatever you would like to accomplish in your life do it quickly.

Don't put things off too long. Life goes by so quickly.

So, do what you can today, as you can never be sure whether you're on the last quarter or not.

You have no promise that you will see all the seasons of life. So, live for today and say all the things that you want your loved ones to remember - and hope that they appreciate and love you for all the things that you have done for them in all the past years.

'Life' is a gift to you. Be Happy! Have a great day!

Remember, it is health that is real wealth and not pieces of gold and silver.

You may think: Going out is good - but coming home is better! You forget names - but it's okay because some people forgot they even knew you! You realize you're never going to be really good at anything like golf - but you like the outdoors! The things you used to care to do, you aren't as interested in anymore - but you really don't care that you aren't as interested. You sleep better on a lounge chair with the TV on than in bed - you call it 'pre-sleep'! You miss the days when everything worked with just an 'On' and 'Off' switch! You tend to use more 4 letter words - 'what' and 'when' You have lots of clothes in your wardrobe, more than half of which you will never wear - but just in case!

Old is good - • Old is comfortable • Old is safe • Old songs • Old movies • and best of all, • Friends of old!

So, stay well, 'Old friends!' Have a fantastic day! Have an awesome quarter - whichever one you're in!

Take care, Claudia xoxo

Remember: It's not what you gather but what you scatter that tells what kind of life you have lived.

T5R New Years Day Cruise Postponed

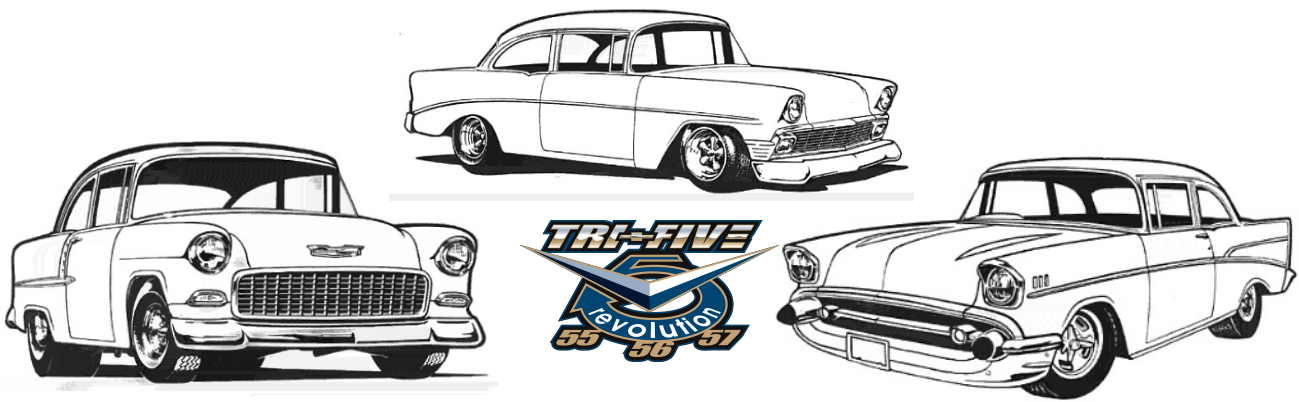

Dana and I have been talking about the new years day group cruise and the weather forecast. Our opinion is that Sunday looks questionable. We propose setting a rain date in January hoping for better weather.

Thank you and have a great new years,

Joe Keller

Another big thank you to Joe Keller for once again organizing the New Years Day Cruise. Although it has been postponed we all look forward to getting together soon.
