

Tri-5 Birthday & Farewell Party

Big Thank you to Rich & Therese for letting us into your lovely home.

Farewell to two Tri-5 families. We wish the Goldbergs and the Mayers all the best.
You will be missed.

Mayer Relocation Adventure Status:

Hello to all our Tri-5 friends, we miss you all. It has been just over three weeks since we moved into our new home in Saddlebrooke, Arizona. Lynn and I are still married, but this moving business is stressful. We are now real Zonies, with Arizona driver licenses, vehicle licenses (no front plate, YEA) and a historic plate for the '63, which is still in Vista.

The house is on a great lot, with a hill of open space across from us and three fairways on the golf course behind us. We are at a higher elevation than the course so no golf balls to contend with. There was a neighborhood party the fourth day we were here and we got to meet most of the neighbors, but only remember a few names so far. Very nice people and helpful too. The house has been more of a challenge than we thought it would be. We knew going in that we would remodel the master bath, known as the pink room. A neighbor up the street has the same model house and is doing exactly what we wanted to do, so we signed up with her contractor. Demolition is scheduled for this Wednesday. Unfortunately the master closet is at the end of the bathroom, so all the great work Lynn did organizing the closet will have to be redone when the work is finished. We found a good painter for the inside, which needs a complete redo, and he starts on Monday, except for the master bath and our bedroom, which we have to move out of for a month or so because of demo. We are moving to the spare bedroom and spare bath room. So, progress is being made a step at a time. There are still boxes all over. Lynn and I painted the office today which with a fifteen foot ceiling was a chore. Oh, Sporty had his first staring contest with a very large mule deer staring at him through the window on the patio. He woofed a little until it went away.

Anyway, we are dealing with the house remodeling, meeting people and enjoying the area a great deal. Will send another update on how to survive a remodel.

Lynn and Sandy

P.S. Lynn here.....he forgot to mention we are redoing the kitchen as soon as the master bath is done. We will be in re-model mode for quite some time.

Goldberg Move

September 30, 2016

Twenty-eight years ago we arrived in California. Today, with Goldie and her Corvette sister tucked in at Ava and Bob's Rough Edges Ranch and most of our household goods already in route to Florida, we pack our remaining belongings into a U-Haul trailer. In the morning we'll start out on our next adventure, our move to a 55+ community just south of Tampa, FL.

What drove the idea of moving? It was a business and quality of life decision. We were lucky enough to experience the very California phenomena of extreme real estate inflation. Our home of 18 years more than doubled in value. We sold, took the money, and now we're on the run out of state to more affordable housing and pocketing the balance. In San Clemente we felt isolated from our friends. Too far away to drop by for a visit or call someone up with a last minute invitation to supper. Our new neighborhood, in time, should solve this problem. We would have liked to move into San Diego county but couldn't find what we were looking for at a reasonable price. The business part of the plan, banking more than half of the money from the sale, couldn't be accomplished in California.

It wasn't easy to make the relocation decision. We leave family and you dear friends here. We are fortunate to have another daughter, son-in-law and grandchildren in Florida, and we know we will be able to return here for visits. So at about 6:30 tomorrow morning we'll start on our way heading down the 8 to the 10 and across to the 75. When we arrive in Lakewood Ranch the Tri-5 Revolution will have a new encampment.

Alpine Chili Cook-off & Car Show

by Rod Hildebrand

The weekend of September 10th was the Alpine Car Show. Again debated whether or not to go. I asked Nancy what she was going to do. She wanted to go to the Redlands auction Saturday night. After going to an estate sale that a.m., I told her, if Don would go with me to the show, I would leave at 12:30 p.m. to go to the auction. After several texts back and forth, Don decided to go. We got there at 8:15 a.m. and were one of last cars to arrive. That was a good thing because our spots were an easy exit when it was time to leave. The show had about 100 cars. There was a pancake breakfast and lots of raffle prizes. They had several people walking around to judge cars for the awards. Don and I walked around to see who was there and looked at the cars. We found a shady spot to put our chairs and as the day went on we followed the shade across from our cars to a big pine tree. The weather was ok, not real hot but with no breeze made it seem hotter. We watched the judges look at our cars and write down our numbers equally. As usual, Don was trying to sell car parts. At 12:30 I got a call from Nancy about what time I was coming home. I said OH I lost track of time. She said "YA RIGHT". So Don and I were off within a couple minutes. Getting home, I put the 57 away and we were off to the auction. By 3:45 p.m. we were there. I didn't buy anything and Nancy bought one item. Don's neighbor stuck around to see if we won anything. When Don talked to him, he said they only read off the entry numbers and not the names. He said they would call if we had won anything. The next Tuesday, I got a call saying I had won. I asked if Don Perkins had won and they said no. So as my friend Don would say "the old rust bucket won again" but it was a good day hanging out at a car show with Don.

Be Well My Friends

It has been an incredible couple of months for this '56 Nomad: I've celebrated another decade birthday, 'had a little work done' as us older ladies like to say, reconnected briefly with an old friend, been feted at the Tri-5 birthday/going away party, and now I'm getting ready to take up temporary residence at Bob and Ava's Rough Edges Ranch as I wait for my major relocation to Florida.

At sixty I am more grateful than ever for the owners who have cared for me, made me into the modified classic I am today. In August at Wayne and Linda's garage Wayne worked all kinds of magic on me. He outfitted me with windshield wipers. After fourteen years I will no longer be just a Rain-X queen. Then he installed my very first air conditioning. I am so happy with my new dash — one of those adorable ones with all of the little bow ties. I couldn't care less that it's not year-appropriate, it's cute! And, wait 'til you seen my bling-y AC vents. All these improvements keep me feeling young and good about myself. What girl doesn't love that! Now I'm sitting at Steve Spirkoff's Spirit Ranch having hoses and stuff connected to keep me as cool as I look when I'm at my new Florida home.

At Picnic by the Bay car show I had an unexpected reunion with Garth Rolfe who had purchased me in 1986 in Huntington Beach and sold me to Harvey and Ann in 2002. He recognized me when I pulled into my parking spot at the show. Turns out he follows my photos on our Tri-5 web site. Did my ego ever love hearing that. Made me feel like a rock star.

I love it when my social calendar is full. The week after Picnic Therese and Rich hosted our Tri-5 Revolution birthday party at there home expanding it to be a going-away for Sandy and Lynn and my mom and dad. They are excellent hosts and it was a wonderful afternoon. I was glad to have the opportunity to see a lot of my California car friends, metal and human.

Soon I'll be on a car transporter traveling cross country. I'm looking forward to my new adventure in FL, but it is hard for me to say good bye. I will miss you more than you can know. Hopefully I will see some of you at an east coast car show in the future. And I'll send you newsletter updates from time-to-time. Meanwhile, be well my friends. Continue to have wonderful times together. Be safe. Be well.

The Kitchen Scoop on Pumpkin Scones

by Ann Goldberg

For many of us the age of our Tri-5's or older daily breakfast is a bowl of high fiber cereal. When we allow ourselves a bakery treat we automatically opt for donuts, bagels, or muffins. Scones can be just as yummy and provide a nice change of pace. Here's a pumpkin scone recipe that mimics the ones found at Starbucks coffee shops.

Pumpkin Scones ala Starbucks

Recipe yields 6 scones

Scones:

2 cups flour
1/2 cup sugar MINUS 1 Tablespoon
1 T baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon ginger
6 Tablespoons cold butter
1/2 cup canned pumpkin puree
(do not use pumpkin pie filling)
3 Tablespoons half and half
1 large egg

Plain Glaze:

1 cup plus 1 Tablespoon powdered sugar
2 Tablespoons milk

Spicy Glaze:

1 cup plus 3 Tablespoons powdered sugar
2 Tablespoons milk

Spicy Glaze:

1 cup plus 3 Tablespoons powdered sugar
2 Tablespoons milk

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Line baking sheet with parchment,

In a food processor fitted with the metal blade pulse flour, sugar, baking powder, salt spices, and butter until the mixture is crumbly and butter is no longer visible. Empty contents into a large bowl.

In a separate bowl stir pumpkin, half and half, and egg until incorporated.

Fold wet ingredients into dry. Form dough into a bowl and place on a lightly floured surface. Roll into a one-inch thick rectangle approximately 9-inches by 3-inches. With a large knife or pizza cutter, make two cuts along the 9-inch length so you have three 3" by 3" pieces. Cut each of these diagonally to yield six triangles.

Place on baking sheet and bake 14 to 16 minutes until scones are starting to turn just lightly brown. Cool on a rack.

Mix plain glaze ingredients together and heavily drizzle from a whisk onto cooled scones. Let set. Repeat process with Spicy Glaze ingredients highly drizzling over first glaze. Let set at least one hour prior to serving.

Club Attire Order

Big Thank you to Wayne and Linda who volunteered to take our purchases to Nick for club embroidery. Bring your new clothing items (leave the tags on and write your name on them) to the October club meeting. Our club colors are gray - black, white & blue also works, but if your favorite color is purple with pink polka dots that would be fine too.

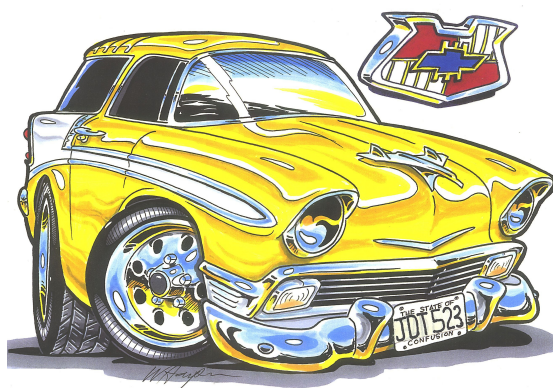

You can also see the Greathouse order catalog link from our website <http://www.tri-fiverevolution.com/apparel> - click on view the catalog. Any questions contact Wayne and Linda.

Claudia's Corner

I would like to share a verse to take our minds off politics for awhile and redirect your focus to the brave men and women in uniform.

God Bless America and the Men and Women who serve.

Great News - JD Stevens is home after a short stay in the hospital. We wish him a very speedy recovery.

Get Well soon.
